

Olga I. Ramos Carrasquillo is the President of Boys & Girls Club of Puerto Rico (BGCPR), where she oversees the implementation of strategies that govern the transformation of the organization from prevention services into a hub for socioeconomic development. Her varied experience in different fields has enabled Olga to look at the organization from a growth perspective and line up the steps in order to prepare the organization for future growth and sustainability.

Prior to being President, Ms. Ramos served on BGCPR's Board of Directors as Vice President for 8 years. From 2004 to 2017, she had a career with Walmart where she led different areas and positioned Puerto Rico among the top performing markets in the company. She became General Manager for Sam's Club, managed a sales portfolio of $1.2 billion and with a team of more than 3,000 people.

Ms. Ramos earned a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from the University of Puerto Rico and a Juris Doctor from the Interamerican University of Puerto Rico. In 2015, she was one of Caribbean Business Magazine's Top 40 under 40 leaders in Puerto Rico. She currently serves on the Advisory Board of Women Who Lead. Most recently, she was recognized with the Hipólito Mejías medal of excellence, which is a recognition to distinguished graduates from the Interamerican University School of Law.
